

Getting Tested

 A yellow poster with a black square at the top containing a white virus icon. Below the icon, the text reads "Coronavirus COVID-19" in black. At the bottom right, there is a small logo with the letters "HF" in red and blue.	The Coronavirus is a new virus.
 A photograph of three people. In the foreground, a man with glasses and a red and white striped shirt looks unwell, holding his hand to his chest. Behind him, a woman is coughing into her elbow. In the background, a man is holding his forehead, appearing to have a headache or fever.	If I have a cough, feel warm or have a runny nose and sore throat I should get tested to check if I have the virus.
 A photograph of a bedroom. It features a bed with white linens and a purple blanket, a wooden desk with a chair, a window with purple curtains, and a bedside table with a lamp.	I will be tested in my bedroom.

I will be asked to wear a mask.
This is good. The mask will help to keep me safe and healthy.

The person who tests me will be wearing a mask, gown, goggles and gloves.
This is good. It will help them to stay safe and not get sick.

They will take my temperature using a special thermometer.

They will ask me to open my mouth and they will put a swab into the back of my throat.

They will also put a swab up my nose.

This will not hurt me. I will be okay. Then I can say goodbye and go home.

The doctor will phone me to tell me the results of the test.
